

VICMESH OHSMS POLICY NO. 1 OCCUPATIONAL HEALTH AND SAFETY POLICY

Vicmesh is committed to the health, safety and wellbeing of its customers, employees, business partners and visitors.

Our Occupational Health and Safety Policy is based on belief that people are our most important asset and their health and safety is our greatest responsibility.

All tasks can be completed safely, all injuries are preventable, and everyone has the right to go home free from injury or illness.

The objectives of our policy are:

- To make health and safety an integral part of every position.
- Identify and control all potential hazards in the workplace
- To consider health and safety in all planning and work activities
- To comply with state and national OHS legislative requirements
- To continually improve and ensure the highest standard of OHS management is achieved and maintained throughout the business

We achieve this by:

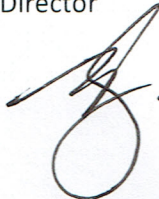

- Applying risk management procedures
- Engaging and consulting with our employees and customers and involving them in the decision making process.
- Providing supervision and training to ensure our employees work in the safety possible manner
- Complying with the requirements of the Victorian OHS act 2004 and associated regulations.
- Making health and safety information available and regularly communicating with our team and customers
- Continually reviewing and improving our procedures and safety management system
- Monitoring and reporting of occupational health and safety performance
